The city of Madurai is often called the soul of South India, a place where temple streets bustle with life and the scent of spices fills the air.

Its cooking is vibrant, generous, and naturally gluten-free, shaped by rice, lentils, tamarind, and curry leaves.

These are the flavours that inspire us, reimagined here in Glasgow.

While our kitchen is fully gluten-free, please note the bar is not entirely gluten-free, though we offer many gluten-free options. For any allergies or dietary requirements, please speak to our team.
